

Fullerton Arboretum

Celebrate a
Victorian Christmas
Event
“Going to the Ball”

Saturday & Sunday
December 5 - 6, 2009

Begins at 5:00 p.m. and runs every 30 minutes.
Admission: $15 per person (advanced reservations and prepayment required)
Last tour at 7:00 p.m. Complimentary refreshments in Oak Hall.

This event will be beautifully illuminated in candlelight.

The 1894 Victorian Heritage House in the Fullerton Arboretum will be the backdrop for four narrated vignettes in Holiday decorated rooms. The central story involves the household getting ready for the traditional Christmas Ball at the St. George Hotel. After the scenes in the Heritage House, the action moves to nearby Oak Hall where a couple is dressed from their “unmentionables” to their elegant outerwear to attend the ball. The couple then joins others to sample Victorian dances and finally invite guests to join in a “Grand March”.

For tickets and reservations: call (657) 278-3407 or e-mail dianeking@fullerton.edu

See website for related horticultural, environmental and ecological education classes at the Arboretum

Yorba Linda Blvd. at Associated Road • (657) 278-3407
www.fullertonarboretum.org